General Fund Diversion. An attempt was made—and defeated 81-23—to amend the general fund appropriation bill to divert a million dollars a year from the General Fund to help pay for highway bond interest and retirement. Rep Percy K. Hanson (R-Gardiner) had introduced the amendment with the avowed intention of avoiding the need for raising license and registration fees. Rep Jesse P. Fuller (R-South Portland) was a potent factor in defeat of the amendment when he told the House that Maine stands third among the states in per capita spending on roads, but only 46th in expenditures for education. He said that any general fund money that could be spared should go to the schools.

"Balanced Budget." The $86-million "balanced budget" appropriation bill went to the engrossment stage in the House on the 66th law-making day. The governor's supplementary budget, approaching $16-million, is still to come out of committee. The proposed financing for this document is an increase in the sales tax.

The Highway "Package." As the 26th week closed, only one final hurdle remained for the "package" of highway measures on which the administration and the legislative leadership are generally agreed upon. The package includes: A proposed $24-million bond issue; the $60-million general highway allocation bill, which runs over current revenue by about $1-million a year; and proposed increases in the driver's license, in car registration fees, and increases in state costs for operating trucks and buses, the last designed to pay costs of the proposed bond issue.

Reckless Homicide. An effort to kill legislation setting up a criminal charge in automobile fatalities, to be known as reckless homicide, was halted in the Senate with a 21-0 vote. Present law requires prosecution for manslaughter, a felony with a maximum 10 to 20 year prison sentence. The new charge would be a misdemeanor and would require proof of "reckless disregard for the safety of others."

The measure was filed by Rep. Francis E. Hancock (R-York) for the Highway Safety Committee and would provide for fines of $100 to $1,000, imprisonment for 30 days to 11 months, or both. The argument

ENGLISH IFYE DELEGATE VISITING AT EAST BETHEL

Miss Elizabeth Clemiston

Miss Elizabeth Clemiston of England arrived in Oxford County Monday. The first part of her stay as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate will be with the Robert Hastings family at East Bethel. There she will live as a member of the family, learning how people in this country live and teaching her host family and other people in the community many things about her own country.

Miss Clemiston will be available for speaking engagements, made through the 4-H Club Agent, Mrs. Arlene M. Knight, or the host family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hastings, R. F. D. 1, Bethel.

Miss Clemiston comes to Oxford County in exchange for our IFYE delegate, Miss Shirley M. Bartlett of East Bethel, who is now in England. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clemiston, she has two brothers and a sister. Her hobbies include singing and playing the piano and pipe organ, knitting, dancing, tennis and badminton.

Miss Clemiston farms with her parents on their 124-acre farm at Ovingham, Prudhoe Station, Northumberland, England. They raise oats, wheat, kale, and grasses for silage, as well as keeping dairy cows and sheep. She has had experience in household management and is a member of Young Farmers' Clubs. Her special interests are agricultural and dairy shows, young farmers' clubs, and women's institutes (homemakers' programs).

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

On June 6th at 9:00 a. m. the telephone company will convert to the dial system. For fire protection purposes a red network is being installed in town. There are five phones on the red network located at the following places: Chapin's Filling Station, Alice Smith, Roderick McMillin, Charles Freeman, and the Town Office. These phones are all on the same line with the same number for each phone. Vandyke 4-2211. In case of fire dial this number and one or more of the above listed phones will answer your call. Located at each red network phone is a button to blow the air whistle, signals as follows: 2 blasts of the air whistle repeated three times within the village limits; 3 blasts of the air whistle repeated three times for fires outside of the village; 5 blasts of the air whistle repeated three times for emergency calls.

It is extremely important to the Fire Department as well as to the person calling that only the red network number Vandyke 4-2211 be used in reporting fires or calls for emergency help. Do not dial operator.

Cards are being made up to be distributed, which will give information on fire signals and the number to call which is already outlined to you in the preceding paragraphs.

Persons residing in the area served by the Tremain and Tremain exchanges and living in Bethel will also dial, Vandyke 4-2211.

The State of Maine Publicity Bureau has reserved the period of June 17th to June 23rd for a display from Bethel. Any persons or business firms interested in contributing articles for this exhibit should contact the town office within the next two weeks.

It is my understanding that a successful exhibit was made last year with several local firms participating, as well as Gould Academy. Last year's exhibitors are invited to participate again as well as others who would like to exhibit for the first time.

This is an opportunity to get some free advertising for Bethel. A good display will show that we are a progressive and active community.

Mr. Vachon transported the items to Kittery last year and has kindly consented to do the same this year.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean.

ROBERT KIRK

Robert Kirk died Wednesday afternoon at his home on the Locke Mills road after several years of ill health. He had been confined to his bed since returning from Florida last month.

He was born in Oskaloosa, Iowa, Feb. 21, 1888, the son of Robert and Jane Livingston Kirk, where he attended the town schools and Oskaloosa High School.

As a young man he went to the West Coast and sailed around Cape Horn as a cabin boy. In Philadelphia he became an apprentice at the Ken Electric Co. and after three years joined the Navy, where he was a Radio Electrician. Serving on several ships in World War I. He became a Warrant Officer and was stationed at bases in England and Ireland.

In 1915, Mr. Kirk married Miss Mabel Bean of Bethel and they had four children. A son, David, lost his life in a hunting accident in 1939. This marriage resulted in a separation in 1932, and two years later he married Miss Sarah B. Chapman of Bethel.

Coming to Bethel in 1923, he bought an abandoned farm on Chandler Hill, which he completely renovated into a modern home. Until his health prevented him he was in constant demand as an expert electrician in this community. During World War II he worked at the Portmouth Navy yard as a civilian electrician.

For several years Mr. and Mrs. Kirk have been winter residents of Clearwater Beach, Florida.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edward Robertson of Bethel, two sons, Robert W. and Richard, Providence, R. I.; a brother, James, Philadelphia; a sister, Mrs. James Rhea Hanover, N. M.; and several grandchildren.

MPB LISTS OVER 125 SEASON ACTIVITIES

Maine vacationists will have a wide selection of activities to attend this spring, summer and fall according to the 1957 official "Maine Calendar of Events" published and distributed by the Maine Publicity Bureau.

The current calendar lists over 125 individual events of interest all over Maine including historical observances, open house days, fairs, race meets, fishing and sporting contests, art shows and others planned to attract the two million vacation-travelers expected to be visiting the Pine Tree State this year.

Maine's historical past will be commemorated in observances this summer at Palmyra, Jefferson, Stetson Springs, Thomaston, Bath, East Millinocket and Houlton.

Inquiries at the Publicity Bureau offices indicate a good travel year for Maine this season, and the demand for the "Maine Calendar of Events" from out-of-state planning Maine vacations is heavy as many of these schedule their trip around these events listed in the calendar.

The Bureau's Events Listing is revised monthly throughout the season and distributed by mail and over-the-counter at their information offices in Kittery, Portland, Augusta, Fryeburg, Bangor, and Radio City, New York.

BETHEL OFFICERS CAPTURE STATE SCHOOL ESCAPEES

Two boys from the State School for Boys, South Portland, were taken into custody late Sunday night in Gilead, where they had sought refuge in a tree. Detected in Gilead by Police Officer Albert Colton, he pursued them to Gilead where they smashed and abandoned the stolen car which they were travelling in.

With the help of State Trooper Kenneth Wing and Deputy Sheriff Albert Grover of Bethel, the boys were discovered in the tree where they fled when they thought they heard a wild cat.

ACROSS the DESK

read from other editors

From the Newark-Courier-Gazette, Newark, N. J.: A foothill town lived in fear of destruction. Every summer, when the mountain snow melted, fast floods inundated the town. Bridges collapsed; houses were swept away; people drowned.

The townspeople got together to end this threat. They raised money and hired experts to construct a scheme of protection. This consisted of a series of dams and channels to trap the flood waters upstream and divert them around the town. Three loggers controlled the system. By turns the townspeople were to watch and work the floodgates.

For a time they did. Then, one after another, they found excuses. Their jobs were pressing; they didn't have time; they put it off or forgot about it. The gates remained unguarded.

One night a flash flood swept down the mountainside and wiped out the town.

The U. S. polo story is not unlike the story of this town. For years we lived under the shadow of polo paralysis. We spent time and money to end a preventive. Now that we have it—the Salk vaccine—we neglect to use it. Only one polo-susceptible person in ten is properly vaccinated. The polo season is upon us and we tremble in fear of epidemics. If we are to escape them, over 50 million Americans must be vaccinated. It takes three properly spaced Salk shots to set up maximum immunity. If you are under 40, don't wait till disaster strikes. Vaccinate at the earliest opportunity.

From the South Pasadena Review, South Pasadena, Calif.: If a stranger struck up an acquaintance with you on the street and offered to share a sizable sum of money he said he had just found, wouldn't you be more than a little wary there was a catch to it?

What's more, suppose the stranger said that before he handed over the money you must give him an equal amount temporarily, just to show "good faith." Would you give him the money if you had it?

You're probably saying: Nobody would be stupid enough to do that! Well, brother, they do, and they do it every day of the year. This obvious little tick has probably been the most economical of all human ticks since we first started to work the public.

Economic Highlights . . .

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Independent from Local Welfare.

A controversy has been going on, in and out of governmental circles, as to whether or not our country is finding its position of leadership in the development of peaceful uses of atomic energy with particular reference to atomic power for the generation of electricity. That statement opened a recent speech by a man who can speak with authority—Commissioner Harold B. Vance of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission. Mr. Vance did a noteworthy job of clearing the air, and correcting certain misconceptions.

England now has a nuclear power plant of commercial size in operation, and it has been argued that this is just proof that we are only lagging in the atomic race. But Mr. Vance takes a very different view. England used to be a major coal exporter, and these exports accounted for much of her foreign exchange. But the production has moved to the other side, and coal is now going to Newcastle. Last year England had to import about 10 per cent of the coal used in her power plants. This proportion is destined to rise rapidly to as much as 20 per cent in 1958 unless the situation can be altered with nuclear power. The imported coal has to be paid for in hard currency as is used when it is dangerously short supply to present-day Britain. Mr. Vance states, "Thus through force of circumstances economic leadership is being given to us."

By contrast, Mr. Vance goes on,

"We are blessed with large supplies of coal, oil, and gas . . . we are free so far as our economy is concerned to follow a plan which, as in the fable of the tortoise and the hare, may appear to be slow in the early part of the race, but will certainly win out at the end of it."

The U. S. government and U. S. industry are intensively exploring a wide range of different reactor concepts, with the objective of finding out which type or types promise the most efficient and economical power production, along with such important characteristics as simplicity, reliability and safety.

Mr. Vance also tells the significant story of the six Western European countries which have joined in the Coal and Iron Community. These companies are now forming Euratom, a similar cooperative effort in the atomic power field. They, like England, must now import large and costly quantities of conversion fuels for their power plants. So they have devised a three-phase atomic power program.

The first phase is born of sheer necessity, and will consist of the construction of large producing units as rapidly as possible. Not the small and larger phase is in itself a tribute to what is going on in this country. Representatives of Euratom, Mr. Vance says, have stated frankly that they hope and expect to enjoy the benefits of our plan and program" to future years.

Under the American concept, one day will it be before we can expect to be in a position to undertake a substantial commercial nuclear power program in this country?" Mr. Vance thinks it will not be long that the research work on the first canard can may bear fruit to two years or less.

He goes on in these words: "We are dealing with a matter which cannot infinite possibilities for the benefit of mankind. I hope our engineers to begin to realize some of these possibilities will be able to do so to the fact that there are to be used fundamental industrial methods which could be adopted which we can proceed rapidly and surely to harness all possibilities."

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT
OPENS ROADSIDE PICNIC
AREAS FOR SEASON

The State Highway Commission
opened its roadside picnic areas for the season last week. All the areas have been put in first class order with tables and barrels freshly painted.

With each succeeding year the roadside picnic areas have become more popular with the travelling public. In order to take care of the increased use, several new areas have been established and improvements made in many others. Fifty-five new shelters have been erected so that people can picnic in comfort during damp days as well
as have shade during sunny weather.
Fireplaces are now being built in many areas to provide a safe place to kindle fires for those who wish to cook a hot meal.

The State Highway Department
now operates about two hundred roadside picnic areas throughout the state.

General Appropriations and Highway Allocations. The question as to how much of the appropriation for State Police activity should come from the General Fund was the only matter debated at the Senate passed to be engrossed the general appropriations bill and the general highway allocations bill.

The first, which will finance the governor's balanced budget, carries a tag of $35-million; the second totals $60-million and is tied in with a $24-million bond issue.

Plans were completed for the annual summer sale to be held jointly with the Women's Fellowship
on June 27.

These officers were elected for the next club year: President, Mrs.
Henry Boyker; 1st Vice President, Mrs. J. C. Bartlett; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Edith Howe; 3rd Vice President, Miss Beatrice Brown;
Secretary, Mrs. R. R. Tibbets; Treasurer, Mrs. Merton Soule.

MRS. MUSKIE FEATURED IN
SATURDAY EVENING POST

Mrs. Jane Muskie finds that her husband's first term as Governor of Maine has made many changes in the lives of her family and she expects the second term will bring more of the same.

She outlined her thinking in the current (May 25) issue of The Saturday Evening Post, in which the 30-year-old First Lady tells of the problems she has faced as the youngest governor's wife in the country.

Her article, "So We Moved Into the Governor's Mansion," says that when her husband became Maine's first Democratic chief executive in two decades to hold that office
at 17 Silvermount Street, Waterville, suddenly had walls of glass.
Their lives were a public matter.

Mrs. Muskie relates that she was graduated from high school only nine years before and had never been in Blaine House, the 28-room,
seven bath, Governor's mansion.

Because the house is maintained
by public funds, she explains,
it is open to the public. Every afternoon visitors are permitted to wander through, visiting such rooms as the formal parlor, the state dining room and the library.
"I think the thing that worried me most before moving in was the children," she comments. "I wanted them to have as normal a life as possible, and I had no idea what a great success she recalls, and sudden immersion in the goldfish bowl of a governor's mansion might do to them. Knowing our children, I was equally concerned about what they might do to the goldfish bowl."

Mrs. Muskie tells that she was accustomed to entertaining small groups of friends but she was petrified at the prospect of her first official duty, holding a luncheon at Blaine House for 275 person. Then there was the inauguration.

So many people wanted to come that it was decided to dispense with the usual formal luncheon and held a dance instead. The ball was a great success, she recalls, and shaking 2000 hands during the evening.

"When we finally pack our things to move on," Mrs. Muskie comments, "I wonder just how changed we will be."

"As a mother, I think mostly about the children — and about what effect living in a goldfish bowl has had, and will continue to have, on them. Is it just a place to slide down banisters, or does some of the patina of politics

rub off, too, as they brush their teeth?"

Mrs. David Foster, Correspondent
The Women's Extension Group held a meeting on "Making the Most of Family Income" on May 15 at the Grange Hall. Mrs. Doris Ladd, the Home Demonstration Agent, gave a very interesting talk on Budgeting and how we could do it. She gave us ideas on what to keep records and also where we might keep them safe. Mrs. Ladd also compared yearly income per capita of various parts of the country with the income in Maine. The fixed expenses, such as taxes were brought to our attention, as well as the more flexible ones, such as, food, clothes, recreation, etc. She suggested that we might check our budget to see how best to reportion the income. Mrs. Ladd gave us Health Leaflets listing all the illnesses, vaccinations, etc., each member of the family had which should be filled out and kept with each member in case of an accident to help the doctor. At noon Mrs. June Swan and Mrs. Marguerite Bartlett served an emergency meal to 20 school children. After clean-up Mrs. Ladd showed us two films—one on "Budgeting for Better Living" which pointed up her morning talk; and the other on "Credit" showing the different types of credit and also the pitfalls one might encounter using them. The next meeting will be June 18 at the Grange Hall. Subject matter will be "Salads and Everyday Meals" in charge of Miss Mabel Abbott. Miss Abbott and Mrs. Florence Hastings will be on the dinner committee.

Alder River Grange No. 148 held a regular meeting on May 17 with 35 members and 12 visitors present. The third and fourth degrees were given to Miss Judy Harrington and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stearns who joined Alder River Grange. Mr. and Mrs. Fleet and Mrs. Kenneth Merrill who joined Alder River Grange, Newry. The literary program presented by Worthy Lecturer Hulda Stevens was as follows: roll call—Why I Think a Flower Garden is Important on the Farm; readings by Jeanne Newton and Richard Stevens; quiz by lecturer; game of ring toss by several members; remarks by visitors. There were eight visitors from Bear River Grange, Newry; four visitors from Rumford Grange.

On Saturday fifteen men and boys gathered at the cemetery for the annual clean-up day. Grass was mowed and raked; lots filled in; trash taken away and everything made "spick and span" for Memorial Day. Lunch was served to 18 people by the Home and Community Welfare Committee at the Grange Hall.

The Jackson-Silver Post of Locke Mill will conduct services at the cemetery at 11 in the morning on Memorial Day. It is hoped that there will be a big crowd to show their appreciation for this fine service.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perry and daughter, Vicki, of Milot; Chester Herrick of Mechanic Falls were week end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Crockett.

Mrs. Doris Houle was taken to the Rumford Community Hospital Sunday for observation. Mrs. Isobel Bryce is taking her mother's place at home.

Hugh Hastings, Jr., of Fryeburg was a week end visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hastings.

Emily Farwell; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scio of Lovell were week end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Farwell.

BETHEL GIRL SCOUTS AND

BROWNIES ENJOY PLAY DAY

The Bethel Evening Extension Bethel Brownie Scouts and Intermediate Girl Scouts was held on Saturday, May 18, in the Douglass yard in Mayville from 10:00 to 2:00. There were nearly 75 girls present: Brownie Troop 2 with 16 girls and leaders, Elizabeth Wheeler and Ruth Kitteridge; Brownie Troop 3 with 18 girls and leaders, Bettye Robertson and Beatrice Lowell; Brownie Troop 7 with 18 girls and leaders, Virginia Mundt, Doris Lowell, and Monique Mills; Intermediate Troop 1, Patrol 1, with 16 girls and leaders, Alice Kimball and Beatrice Brown; Patrol 2 with 10 girls and leaders, Virginia Kimball and Barbara D. Brown; Patrol 3 with four girls and leader, Faith Brown. Transportation was furnished by the leaders and mothers and was very much appreciated.

The program for the day was as follows: Singing and dividing into game groups; Treasure hunt for all the Scouts, with Wanda Tibbets finding the "Pot of Gold" which she shared with all the Scouts. She also received a prize. The rest of the morning was spent playing games which the following committee had planned: Faith Brown, Virginia Keniston, Elizabeth Wheeler and Virginia Mundt. Nose bag lunches were eaten at noon with Barbara Brown serving the milk and ice cream.

Following lunch there was group singing. The Horseshoe with Flag Ceremony with Beatrice Brown in charge was held, after which they paraded around the yard, practicing for Memorial Day parade. Linda Paine played the snare drum. Colors were presented by Judy Currier, American Flag, with guard Lorraine Eames and Diana Douglass; World Flag, Martha Keniston; Troop Flag, Norma Kimball with guard, Cynthia Freeman and Jacky Saunders. A most wonderful day came to a close with the Closing Circle and Taps.

Each girl had a number and throughout the day there was a drawing of numbers which entitled the lucky number to a token. Those having the lucky numbers were Linda Felt, Wendy Wheeler, Sue Wheeler, Donna Brouall, Judy Lapham, Betty Stevens, Sue Kneeland, Diana Lothrop, and Barbara Highfill. We all owe a great deal to Mr. and Mrs. Dana Douglass for the use of their yard which was an ideal spot for the occasion.

Patrol 2 Girl Scouts met Tuesday after school at their leader's home with leaders, Virginia Keniston and Kathryn Eames. Carol Flint conducted the meeting. Norma Sloan gave a demonstration on giving a baby a bath and exhibited children's clothing which are requirements in the Child Care Badge. We discussed the use of a looseleaf notebook to keep all our badge work together.

Moorefield, W. Va., Examiner: "No matter what kind of an income taxpayer you are, about one in thirty of you will get audited this year. And that means you have to prove a lot of things—especially those unusual deductions and stuff like that. They may not audit your bank account. But you probably won't have to go to Atlanta even if you are a tax evader. The odds are about two in 10,000 after you get caught. Just pay up, pay the penalty and then have to pay the bill for those who have got and go no more."

Mr. John, Kansas, News: "Divine law does not suggest that the poor like and the wealthy pay half their substance. Yet in this nation we are witnessing an accelerating tendency towards taking a larger proportion from those who have more to pay the penalty and then have less."
